

Karen Aiach Live on Cheddar at the NYSE

On September 12, 2016, Karen Aiach, Founder and CEO of Lysogene, shared her story on Cheddar, a live and on-demand video news network focused on covering the most innovative products, technologies and services that are transforming our lives.

During the broadcast from the trading floor of The New York Stock Exchange, Karen told her story and talked about the catalyst for Lysogene's launch, which was learning that her daughter's rare condition, Sanfilippo Syndrome A, has no cure. She also spoke about Lysogene's ambitions in the rare disease space, and the importance of out-of-the-box thinking and patient driven medicine.
